Step 1: Add contributors (optional)

If you want to work with a member of your team on the application, you can add this person by filling this form. The person will receive a link by email and will then be able to create a password.

- Owner: This person can modify and submit the funding application. This person was designated by a resolution of the Board of Directors as the authorized signatory of the station.
- Standard member: This status can be attributed to a member of the team who will collaborate in writing the funding application. At the technical level, the management system allows holders of this status to submit an application. Be careful, make sure that the person who signs the application form is the person authorized by the resolution of the board of directors.
- Read-only member: This person can consult the application, but cannot modify anything.

Step 2: Fill out your application form

Fill in the information to the question. You can always stop and come back later to complete your application.

At section 9, simply check the elements for the declaration and sign the document using your mouse. If you think your signature is not representative, you can use the Clear button on the right and try again!

Be careful, make sure that the person who signs the application form is the person authorized by the resolution of the board of directors.
